

M283 Alterations to 11 Hamilton Drive

Introduction

Honeyman, Keppie & Mackintosh's drawings submitted to Glasgow Dean of Guild Court show a wooden bay with windows on three sides and panelling below the glazing, projecting at ground-floor level on the S. (garden) elevation of the house. The bay was an extension to the existing smoking room.

Authorship: This is one of over 270 jobs carried out in the office of John Honeyman & Keppie (Honeyman, Keppie & Mackintosh from 1901) during Mackintosh's time there. Mackintosh undoubtedly worked on many of these, but there is no specific evidence for his involvement in this case.

Job Book

The job books of Honeyman & Keppie (later Honeyman, Keppie & Mackintosh) are now held by The Hunterian, University of Glasgow and include four volumes related to the Mackintosh period. The books were used by the firm to keep a project-by-project, day-by-day record of contractors, suppliers and expenditure. The name of a project and/or client is usually at the top of the left-hand page, followed by information about tradesmen who tendered. The name of the measurer (quantity surveyor) is usually at the top of the right-hand page, followed by information about payments to contractors and suppliers. All of the data for M283 is entered in the tables below.
